- Watercolor paper - either hot or cold press; any size is fine (9x12 is a standard size); I recommend a paper that has a weight of 140lb ◦ Strathmore, Canson, and Arches are all quality brands
- Watercolor paints (pan set or tube set) - you don't need to buy a huge set, ideally just have some warm and cool colors
- Paint palette (plastic, ceramic, any kind works)
- A few watercolor brushes - ideally just a few round brushes on the smaller side and a thin fine liner brush (just enough to give yourself some options)
- Cup for water
- Eraser and Pencil - any kind
- Blue painter tape (masking tape or washi tape also work)
- Optional supply: waterproof fine liner pen in black or brown (Micron and Copic are both waterproof brands)
